

Magali Redding
MSc Psychology conversion course
Manchester Metropolitan University
magali.redding@stu.mmu.ac.uk

Autistic Children with eating issues: the families' experiences

Recruitment advert

Facebook post

Call to all parents and carers of autistic children who may be described as “picky” or “fussy” eaters under 12 years old living in Scotland, especially fathers and parents of girls.

I am an MSc Psychology student researcher and the mother of two autistic children. If you fit the above criteria, I would love to hear from you (your child must not have a diagnosed eating disorder or other health condition). Online interviews will last 50 minutes and will help raise awareness of the common experiences and support needs of families like yours in Scotland. Make your story count!

Get in touch now at magali.redding@stu.mmu.ac.uk

EthOS number: 37248

New Research Study

Take part now!

Do you care for an autistic
child with eating issues ?
Tell us your story.

Magali Redding
MSc Psychology Project
Manchester
Metropolitan University

To know more or express an interest :
magali.redding@stu.mmu.ac.uk

The poster features a red background with a white text box for the main message. On the left, there is a blue vertical strip containing a photo of a young child eating. On the right, there is a photo of a man looking at a child eating. The Manchester Metropolitan University logo is centered at the bottom.

Instagram post

New Research Study
*Take part
now!*

Do you care for an autistic
child with eating issues ?
Tell us your story.

Magali Redding
MSc Psychology Project

Manchester
Metropolitan University

To know more or express an interest :
magali.redding@stu.mmu.ac.uk

Call to all parents and carers of autistic children who may be described as “picky” or “fussy” eaters under 12 years old living in Scotland, especially fathers and parents of girls! I am an MSc Psychology student researcher and the mother of two autistic children. If you fit the above criteria, I would love to hear from you (your child must not have a diagnosed eating disorder or other health condition). Online interviews will last 50 minutes and will help raise awareness of the common experiences and support needs of families like yours in Scotland. Make your story count!

Get in touch now at magali.redding@stu.mmu.ac.uk

EthOS number: 37248

#autism #eatingissues #parentingautism #autisticchild #pickyeater #fussyeater
#familysupportautism