

Seeking Research Participants

Homelessness & Autism/ADHD

If you are currently experiencing homelessness (or have within the past five years)

AND

You have autism and/or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder

I would be grateful for your participation.

My name is Aodhan Gallagher and I am a Trainee Clinical Psychologist studying at the University of Glasgow. I am carrying out a research project exploring experiences of homelessness amongst adults with autism and/or ADHD.

Participation will involve an interview lasting up to 90 minutes with questions relating to your experience of homelessness and how this may have related to your autism and/or ADHD. Those able to take part who come to interviews will be offered £20 shopping vouchers in return for their time.

If you are interested, please contact me on 0804329g@student.gla.ac.uk for more information on taking part. Alternatively you can ask staff at One Stop Shop to contact me on your behalf for more information.
